A PLEA FOR PEACE IN MEXICAN NOTE

Which Is Couched In Amicable Terms.

CRISIS NOW SEEMS PASSED

Mediation Or Direct Negotiations Are Proposed In Carranza's Latest Note.

WARLIKE SPIRIT IS QUIETED

Washington, July 5.—Early resumption of friendly diplomatic conversations with the de facto Government of Mexico to the end that peace and order may be restored in Northern Mexico and along the border is expected here to be the next step of the United States in its deliberations with its Southern neighbor.

The crisis precipitated by Villa's raid on Columbus, N. M., and culminating in the fight at Carrizal, Mexico, between American and Mexican troops, appeared to have been dissipated by an amicable note from Gen. Carranza presented during the day by his Ambassador designate here, Eliseo Arredondo.

The note proposes that the differences between the Governments be settled by mediation or by direct negotiations. It is remarkable for its brevity, its restrained and friendly tone and for the absolute lack of any of the strong, even insolent language which characterized the last two communications from the de facto Government. It treats as closed incidents the exchange of unfriendly communications which brought war almost within sight.

No formal comment on the note was obtainable from State Department officials. A copy was forwarded to the White House immediately upon its receipt and President Wilson will determine the course to be pursued.

The fact that Secretary Lansing completed his preparations to-day for a month's vacation, to begin Friday, is regarded as significant, however, of a feeling on his part that the crisis is over.

Mexican Reply To U. S. Demands.

The text of the Mexican reply to the notes of the United States follows:

Washington, D. C., July 4, 1916.

—Mr. Secretary: I have the honor to transmit in continuation the text of a note I have just received from my Government with instructions to present it to Your Excellency:

"Mr. Secretary:

"Referring to the notes of June 20 and 25 last, I have the honor to say to your Excellency that the immediate release of the Carrizal prisoners was a further proof of the sincerity of the desires of this Government to reach a pacific and satisfactory arrangement of present difficulties. This Government is anxious to solve the present conflict and it would be unjust if its attitude were misinterpreted.

"It was also the Mexican Government that earnestly suggested a plan for cantonments along the boundary line during the conferences of Ciudad Juarez and El Paso. This Government is disposed now, as it has always been, to seek an immediate solution of the two points which constitute the true causes of the conflict between the two countries, to-wit:

"The American Government believes reasonably that the insecurity of its frontier is a source of difficulty and the Mexican Government on its part believes that the stay of American troops on Mexican territory, aside from being a trespass on the sovereignty of Mexico, is the immediate cause of the conflicts. Therefore the withdrawal of American troops on the one hand and the protection of the frontier on the other are the two essential problems, the solution of which must be the directing object of the efforts of both Governments.

"The Mexican Government is willing to consider in a quick and practical way, and prompted by a spirit of concord, the remedies which should be applied to the present situation.

"Several Latin-American countries have offered their friendly mediation to the Mexican Government, and the latter has accepted it in principle. Therefore, the Mexican Government only awaits information that the Government of the United States would be disposed to accept this mediation for the purpose mentioned above or whether it is still of the belief that the same results may be attained by means of direct negotiations between both Governments.

"In the meantime this Government proposes to employ all efforts that may be at its disposal to avoid the recurrence of new incidents which may complicate and aggravate the situation. At the same time it hopes that the American Government on its part may make use of all efforts to prevent also new acts of its military and civil authorities of the frontier that might cause new complications.

"I avail myself of this opportunity to reiterate to Your Excellency the assurance of my most distinguished consideration.

"C. AGUILAR."

"Having thus complied with higher instructions of my Government, it affords me pleasure to reiterate to Your Excellency the assurance of my highest consideration.

SIX MEN IN AUTOMOBILE
WITH BODY OF WOMAN

Salem, Mass. July 6.—Attracted by the mysterious movements of an automobile, which had sped up and down Boston street for half an hour early to-day, Policeman Dennis Healy stopped the car and discovered within it the body of Miss Margaret Ward, of Peabody. Six men who were in the car, one of whom was former Representative Charles R. O'Connell, of Peabody, were arrested by Healy.

In addition to the former Representative they included his brother, James O'Connell, of Lynn; Geo. A. Bardwell, a naval watchman; Daniel J. Dineen and William D. Conlin, of Salem, and Thomas J. Sexton, of Peabody, who had driven the car.

Policeman Sergeant C. A. R. Duffee identified the dead woman as his sister-in-law.

Dr. John A. Shannahan, of Peabody, was placed under arrest to-night in the office of his attorney. Miss Ward was a victim of illegal practice, Medical Examiner Atwood reported to the local court after an autopsy late to-day.

The six men were held for hearings on July 12. James O'Connell and Bardwell were required to furnish bonds of $3,000 each, the others $2,000 each.

Three women were detained in Boston. They were found in a house in the Roxbury district, which Sexton told the police was the place from which Miss Ward was taken.

CAUSTIC WORDS OF A MOOSER

Reviewing Action Of Former Leader.

ROOSEVELT IS HELD IN SCORN

By Former Follower Who Shows Up Teddy In His True Light.

FIRE STILL BURNS ON ALTAR

Under the caption "Thirty Pieces of Silver," the Evansville Courier publishes in its editorial columns a communication from a Progressive, discussing Roosevelt's action in endorsing Hughes. The communication reads:

"Theodore Roosevelt, plumed knight of Americanism, is stripped of his last ragged plume. The savior of the nation to whom the savor of kaiserism was anathema has cast his lot with the kaiser hyphenates. He will help them in their effort to punish Woodrow Wilson by electing Hughes. He has joined forces with the very man he so lately spurned with abysmal loathing and contempt.

"Thus does the lion lie down with the lamb, the oil mix in sweet harmony with the water, and the wooden handle lend itself willingly to be welded into the pewter mug.

"Sooner or later every idol reveals its chilly clay feet. Sooner or later does the sharp spear of circumstance pierce the speciously shining armor. There is something infinitely illuminating, if not flattering, in this, the latest pronouncement of Theodore Roosevelt, apostle of unwavering righteousness.

"It is a fine thing in a man to stick to his tenets to the end. The captain who goes down with his ship, the soldier who dies at the head of his men in a vain charge, the martyr who goes to the stake unwavering, all place their names where time cannot tarnish.

"Robert E. Lee, though he fought for a doomed cause, battled clear through to Appomattox. Napoleon, at Waterloo, was as undaunted. Roosevelt, at Armageddon, turns tail and climbs upon a rickety bandwagon.

"There was no leading of forlorn hopes for Theodore. Lee and the leaders of all the legendary lost causes, were actuated by principles they held dearer than life. That is the difference.

"There is something which touches the deepest heart strings in the spectacle of betrayed crusaders. In 1912 a mighty host, aflame with the zeal of high beliefs, followed a leader who waved the sword of the Lord and of Gideon and battled for the right. To the tune of "Onward, Christian Soldier," they marched undaunted upon the entrenched forces of reactionary privilege. Now, four years later, the fire still burns upon the altar. The motives of their action, the principles for which they fought, are still immutably right. The legions of darkness are just as numerous and powerful. Only their leader, the plumed knight, has changed.

"Now, pitilessly revealed, they find that the flaming sword was only the tinfoiled lath of the moving picture hummer. The marching hymn, "Onward, Christian Soldier," was not a clarion trumpet call, only a summons back to the mire from which they fought to emerge.

"Who now has nailed Old Glory on the heights where no alien taint can soil it? Who has struck from the limbs of the American people the shackles of moneyed control? Who has offered to the weary and heavy laden the relief of social justice? Who has proved his right to carry on the banner of progress raised by Roosevelt in 1912 and by him trampled in the mud in 1916?

"One man, and one man only—Woodrow Wilson.

"There is one epitaph which will never be graven upon the mausoleum of the Colonel:

"I have fought a good fight. I have kept the faith."

"A PROGRESSIVE."

High Bridge, Kentucky.

High Bridge over the Kentucky river about sixty miles above Frankfort has, like Mammoth Cave, long been the habitat of Sunday excursionists. The first bridge constructed at this point was completed nearly forty years ago. The present bridge was completed in 1911 and is the highest bridge over a navigable river in the United States.

Some idea of its height may be imagined when it is considered that the present structure is thirty-one feet higher than the old bridge which only a few years ago was thought to be an engineering feat. The height of the rail on the Queen and Crescent road which crosses the bridge is 317 feet above the pier foundation—more than three times as high as the United American building in Frankfort. The total length of the bridge is 1,230 feet. The weight of the steel contained in it is something like 14,000,000 pounds and about 900,000 rivets were used in its construction.

WOMEN WOULD FIGHT IF PERMITTED TO ENLIST

Mexico City, July 7.—A call has been sent out by the Federal Board of Health for a meeting of medical men for the purpose of forming a corps to serve in the event of a foreign war. Volunteers under 50 years of age are called for, and it is planned to form those who serve into three groups in accordance with their age and previous experience.

Supplementing this call is one for women who are to receive emergency training for field services as nurses and the further proposition is made of establishing some medical factories to offset the danger of having supplies, usually furnished from the outside, shut off.

Offers have reached the army headquarters from several sections proposing the formation of "Bridges of Amazons," it being said that women to the number of many thousands desire to serve in the event of war, and ask that they be trained in the manipulation of the rifle. Two thousand of these women are reported to have offered their services in the State of Sonora and others in the west coast and Southern States have followed their example.

LOST LIFE IN STRUGGLE WITH A MAMMOTH SHARK

Philadelphia, Penn., July 5.—That Charles Epling Vansant, 23 years old, son of Dr. E. L. Vansant, of this city, was killed by a shark at Beach Haven, N. J., late Saturday afternoon was the assertion made here by the young man's father.

"My son met his death," said Dr. Vansant, "while battling with a huge shark in the breakers at Beach Haven. A score of persons who witnessed the death struggle of my son assert that the shark was nine feet long and probably weighed 500 pounds.

"When Charles was taken from the water the terrible story was revealed, for his left leg had been virtually torn off. The shark had fastened its teeth into the boy's thigh and had literally torn off the leg. Charles was unable to tell about his struggle and died two hours later. Several bathers saw the dorsal fin of the shark as it made its way into deep water."

BODIES OF HIS FAMILY HORRIBLY MUTILATED

El Paso, July 6.—John Heathcoat, an American, who was a roadmaster on the Southern Pacific Railroad in Mexico, on his arrival here to-day declared that his wife, four-year-old son and daughter, 19 years old, had been murdered by Mexicans, their bodies dismembered and thrown in his private car, where he found them when he returned from a business trip.

Before he had time to bury his dead, Heathcoat said, he was attacked by the same band of Mexicans, many of whom had worked for him on the railroad, and he was forced to fight his way out. Fearing that he would be killed if he returned to his car to bury his family Heathcoat said he rode burros and walked to the Pacific Coast, where he boarded a coast-wise steamer and reached Guaymas, making his way from there to the border.

Heathcoat said the throats of the three had been cut with machetes and their legs and arms cut off.

FINAL COST OF THE CIVIL WAR

Has Not Yet Been Entirely Settled.

ONE OF WORLD'S GREAT WARS

That Could Possibly Have Been Settled Beforehand On Peace Basis.

DARK DAYS OF VIVID MEMORY

In the light of the titanic twentieth century war it is of timely interest to compare the cost and figures of our great Civil War of half a century ago.

"When the Civil War broke out," says "Uncle Dudley" in the Boston Globe, "the total population of the United States was about 32,000,000. The total population of the Confederate States was given by Jefferson Davis to be 5,000,000. Later estimates say 9,000,000. Of this total, 3,500,000 were slaves."

No doubt Mr. Davis included merely the white population of the South, which accounts for the wide discrepancy in the foregoing estimates.

"The total number of men engaged in the war was 2,772,048," continues the writer in the Globe.

"The Confederacy marshaled 700,000 in 1862, when it reached the crest of its wave. The Union troops, from first to last, numbered more than 2,000,000 men. Such were the human assets of that civil strife; they were human liabilities also of a most costly sort. For when we turn to the financial page of that war not even the present European upheaval, vast as it is, can altogether dwarf the conflict of half a century ago, when we consider the interval.

"The immediate and direct cost of the Civil War to the North was $3,330,000,000. The cost of military pensions from 1861 to date amounts to $4,614,643,267. The interest on the war debt for the same period was more than $3,000,000,000. The war expenditures of the State and local governments are reckoned at $1,000,000,000. The abnormal army and naval expenditures occasioned during and after the war came to $500,000,000.

"The total cost of the Civil War to the North alone, reckoned merely in money, has so far amounted to $12,444,643,267. And we are still paying for it. By a similar estimate the war has cost the Southern States $4,000,000,000."

But these are only such losses as can be set down in black and white. There is another loss that can only be written in red, says the writer.

"In four years fighting the North lost 235,328 men. Those who later died of wounds and diseases make that loss 500,000. The estimate for the Confederate States is another half million, and these, of course, came out of a smaller population which their loss still more desperately impoverished. If Jefferson Davis' estimate was correct, the rebellion cost the South one life out of every ten. There are days and names of that terrible year of 1864 at the mere mention of which milder memories still sicken. One is Cold Harbor, where 6,000 men fell in one hour. Another is the Wilderness, where Grant lost 18,000 men and Lee 12,000.

"The institution of human slavery cost the United States two white lives for every seven black slaves living in the Southern States in 1861. So far it has cost the United States about $4,500 for each of those slaves; and the price is still going up."

How much cheaper it would have been for both sides if the slaves could have been bought up by the general Government and set free, as has been suggested. But this afterthought which seems so simple and patent a solution now, was not considered a remote possibility in 1860, if it was thought of at all. The conditions and the state of the public temper in the contending camps were such that suggestion of adjusting the quarrel amicably and in a business-like way could find no foothold anywhere. And, perhaps, after all, the irreconcilable controversy could never have been settled right except in the way it was settled, however cruel this conclusion may seem.

BIRD CAUSED IT ALL—HAD THE BOYS EXCITED

Field Headquarters, July 7.—Via Wireless to Columbus, N. M.—As an evidence of the alertness which marks the Interior American command in Mexico, a story was brought here, telling of the combination of a mocking bird and a recruit sentry throwing an entire detachment into line of battle. The detachment was stationed at a water hole between bases one night, everyone excepting the outposts being asleep. Suddenly the voice of a sentry on a post amid a clump of cottonwoods and water willows cried out, "Halt! Who goes there?"

Immediately there was a fusillade of shots, which brought every man in the command to the sentry's side, their rifles poised expectantly.

"Someone in the bushes," whispered the recruit sentry. "He whistled softly three times and I fired. Heard nothing more."

The soldiers prepared to withstand an attack and deployed in skirmish line. Then the bushes rustled in the breeze and again came three soft whistles. One of the soldiers saw in the light of the moon a little bird—a mocking bird—perched on a twig above them and the detachment was ordered back to sleep.

BODIES OF BRAVE MEN BROUGHT ACROSS LINE

El Paso, Tex., July 5.—The bodies of Capt. Charles T. Boyd, Lieut. Henry T. Adair and seven troopers of the Tenth Cavalry who fell with them in the fight with Carranza troops at Carrizal, were brought to Juarez at midnight to-night aboard a special train from Villa Ahumada. Gen. George Bell, Jr., commanding the El Paso military district, announced that he had arranged for the train bearing them to cross the river to El Paso to-morrow morning.

Military lists indicate that fourteen of the men who composed the Tenth Cavalry command, engaged at Carrizal, were missing. However, the party of American undertakers who exhumed the bodies, reported that despite the co-operation of the Carranza authorities, they were able only to find the nine bodies buried near the battlefield.

TWO-THIRDS OF INCOME TAX PAID BY 4 STATES

Washington, July 8.—Four States, New York, Pennsylvania, Illinois and Massachusetts, paid more than 85 per cent of the $124,867,429 in income taxes turned into the national treasury during the fiscal year 1916, which ended June 30. A table issued Tuesday by Secretary McAdoo of payments by internal revenue districts shows that New York alone paid $55,230,679, and that the greatest percentage of increase which raised the total from the eighty millions collected last year came from the four States headed by New York.

Ohio paid $6,043,985, of which $3,647,656 was corporation tax; Indiana, $814,207 corporation and $410,319 individual; Alabama, Mississippi, Arkansas, Florida, Georgia, Kentucky, Louisiana, North and South Carolina, Tennessee, Virginia, and West Virginia paid a total of $5,389,676 of which $3,491,423 was from corporations.

SHOTS BOY FRIEND BY MISTAKE FOR SQUIRREL

Madison, Ind., July 6.—Leslie Roberts, twelve-year-old son of Luther Roberts, two miles west of here, received a charge of shot in the left arm this morning when Gordon Holcraft, fifteen, a neighbor boy, mistook young Roberts' movements for those of a squirrel. Holcraft heard his dog barking in the woods near his home and took his shotgun to the scene. In the meantime the Roberts boy had reached the tree and climbed into the branches to try to capture the squirrel alive from its hole. Neither boy knew the other was there. When Holcraft saw a movement high up on the tree trunk he took quick aim and fired.

DEMOCRATIC TICKET.

For President—Woodrow Wilson.
For Vice Pres't.—T. R. Marshall.
For Congress—Hon. Ben Johnson.

The Republican party has nominated a man for President who had not in the last half dozen years opened his mouth on any vital question in which the American people are concerned. Great pressure was brought to bear upon him both before and during the Republican National Convention to get him to declare himself on some of the foremost public questions, but all to no avail except his asseveration that he believed in "undiluted Americanism," to which every good American can subscribe. If he stands for anything better than President Wilson's record, he has yet to speak out.

Many members of the Progressive party who four years ago turned from the Republican party because of its rottenness and domination by bosses with special axes to grind, are refusing to swap their Progressive birthright for a mess of pottage and follow their erstwhile leader (Roosevelt) back into the camp of their former party refuge. There is a stand for principle and they are holding fast. Some will vote for Wilson as coming nearest their ideas of true Americanism and freedom, and some will wait longer for a vindication of what they deem their rights, before voting again.

Keeping peace with Mexico—or, her chief, Carranza—is like a community trying to keep peace with a noted outlaw or braggadocio who has committed numerous crimes, smoothed the matter over in some way and is still in the attitude of committing other outrages any minute. There can be little or no confidence placed in what Carranza says, from a national viewpoint. We must take his asseverations with allowances and still keep watch on the Mexican border. The Mexican problem, like the poor, we have always with us. This is a vexing situation, but we must make the best of it.

The Progressive party was launched as a protest against and rebuke of the alleged stolen nomination of W. H. Taft and to set forth certain political principles to which the originators—Col. Roosevelt in the lead—pledged themselves. It is an insult to the honor and intelligence of the Progressives, even though their leader has deserted them, to say that they will go back to the Republican party whose rottenness and infamous convention methods compelled them to leave it. The true Progressives are "standing by their faith and principles. They have not forgotten what was done to them in 1912 nor who did it.

President Wilson has declared time and again that he cared naught for his own political fortunes so long as he was able to put into execution the will of the people. Especially has he emphasized this sentiment the Mexican trouble. And by "people" he says he does not mean any faction or bunch of men who might be benefited financially or otherwise personally by any action taken, but the whole mass of citizenship, from the humblest to the highest, every one of whom, as an American citizen, is due consideration in the matter. No President was ever so severely tried with national questions as is Mr. Wilson these days.

Some thoughtless people are wont to say that President Wilson has waited "too long" before any demonstrative action in the Mexican matter. Who is able to say this with any power of reason in his soul? Who is rash enough to set the exact time we should wait before hurling thousands of our true American manhood into the vortex of a war that no man can measure the slaughter, the misery or the extent of it? Only those who know not what war really means are the ones who are going into hysterics because American blood has not been spilled in Mexico. It is a very serious matter—this war question.

Those who talk so glibly of war, insisting that the United States should go right into it at the drop of a hat, do not stop to think of the unpreparedness of this country for such an undertaking. This, however, has lately been shown in such a way that everybody ought to understand it. President Wilson inherited a large volume of unpreparedness from his predecessors in office.

Since he has been President he has done his best to arouse Congress and the country to the true state of affairs. Preparing for war is necessarily a rather slow process. We are coming around all right, but not yet ready by a long shot.

NEW POSTMASTERS FOR HARTFORD AND BEAVER DAM

President Wilson sent to the Senate last Monday the nominations of Ernest E. Birkhead for postmaster at Hartford, and Otto Dexter, for postmaster at Beaver Dam. These are both excellent gentlemen, who are thoroughly competent for the positions they sought and obtained on the recommendation of Congressman Hon. Ben Johnson, who it will be remembered, was here a short time since looking over the field with the view of selecting a successor to the present incumbents at Hartford and Beaver Dam.

Mr. Birkhead's appointment was decided upon after practically all of the applicants for the Hartford office had agreed upon and signed a petition to Mr. Johnson requesting his appointment.

While the retiring postmasters have made good officials, one thing is assured, the patrons of these offices will have efficient, painstaking and accommodating service from the new appointees.

STATE BOARD ABROGATES STANDARD POLICY FORM

Frankfort, Ky., July 8.—The Workmen's Compensation Board and the Workmen's Compensation Service Bureau, of New York, rate-making organizations for most of the industrial liability insurance companies, have failed to agree on a rate for Kentucky under the compensation law, and Robert T. Caldwell, chairman of the board, said tonight that he had received a telegram from the bureau, saying that while it will not agree to the making-up of the rate, and its companies will not accept the terms proposed by the State board, the companies will be left to their own discretion in regard to doing business in Kentucky. In view of this situation Mr. Caldwell said the rule requiring a standard form of policy will be abrogated.

Nine companies already are qualified for doing business in Kentucky, three mutual, three stock and three reciprocal, and Mr. Caldwell said under the rate proposed by the State board many industries will be able to insure at no advance over present rates.

The rate for a State is found by taking a standard of 100 per cent, and adding to it a differential according to the aggregate amount of benefits paid under the law of the State and an expense charge according to whatever additional cost is entailed in getting the business. It was on this last item that the board and the bureau disagreed.

SIX KENTUCKY CONGRESSMEN ARE WITHOUT OPPOSITION

Washington, July 8.—Six members of the Kentucky delegation in Congress already have been "nominated" at the August primaries. They received official notification of this fact to-day, when Secretary of State Lewis sent them their certificates of nomination. The reason is not hard to find. None of them has opposition for the Democratic honor. The Congressmen are: Alben W. Barkley, Paducah, First district; David H. Kincheloe, of Madisonville, Second district; Robert V. Thomas, Jr., Central City, Third district; Ben Johnson, Bardonia, Fourth district, and A. B. Rouse, Burlington, Sixth district.

Representatives J. Campbell Cantrell, of Georgetown, Seventh district; Harvey Helm, Stanford, Eighth district, and William J. Fields, of Olive Hill, Ninth district, have opposition for the nomination.

DYING BY SCORE FROM INFANTILE PARALYSIS

New York, July 8.—The infantile paralysis epidemic continues its horrid drive through the greater city and into the suburbs. For the day ending at 7 o'clock this morning, there were eighty-seven new cases, sixty of which were in Brooklyn, thirteen in Manhattan, eight in Staten Island, three in the Bronx and three in Queens. Forty-four cases were reported in twenty of the sixty "up-state" counties. To date there have been 797 cases, and 196 deaths in the Greater city.

All "movies" and all public libraries are closed to children absolutely. No gatherings in public parks are permitted, Sunday School and church services for children are barred by the health officers and the board is considering the immediate quarantining in their homes of all children two weeks.

Many a man who marries money is never seen in public with it.

WILL ACCEPT PROPOSAL OF FIRST CHIEF'S NOTE

Formal Reply to Carranza's Offer for Direct Negotiations to Settle Differences.

Washington, July 8.—A note formally accepting General Carranza's proposal that differences between the United States and the de facto government of Mexico be settled by direct negotiations has been handed to Eliseo Arredondo, the Mexican Ambassador designate.

Secretary Lansing took a draft of the note to to-day's cabinet meeting and had it delivered promptly after the cabinet adjourned.

The text of the note, addressed to Mr. Arredondo, follows:

"Sir: I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of your communication of July 4, 1916, in which you transcribe a note addressed to me by the Secretary of Foreign Relations of your government, and to request that you will transmit to him the following reply:

"Mr. Secretary: 'I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of your courteous note transmitted to me by Senor Arredondo on the 4th instant, in which you refer to my notes of June 20 and June 25, and to assure you of the sincere gratification of my government at the frank statement of the difficulties which have unfortunately arisen in our relations along the international boundary, and the unreserved expression of the desire of your government to reach an adjustment of these difficulties on a broad and amicable basis. The same spirit of friendship and of solicitude for the continuance of cordial relations between our two countries inspires my Government, which equally desires an immediate solution of the matters of difference which have long vexed both governments.

"It is especially pleasing to my Government that the de facto government of Mexico is disposed to give quick as well as practical consideration in a spirit of concord to the existing conditions. Reciprocating the same desire, the Government of the United States is prepared immediately to exchange views as to a practical plan to remove finally and prevent a recurrence of the difficulties which have been the source of the controversy.

"Accept, Mr. Secretary, the renewed assurances of my highest consideration.

"I am, sir, yours very sincerely,
"ROBERT LANSING."

HALF MILLION TEUTONS PUT OUT OF COMMISSION

Petrograd, July 8.—Nearly half a million Austrians and Germans have been put out of commission since General Brusiloff began his great advance a month ago to-day. The grand total of prisoners to date is in round numbers 235,000, of which 4,500 are officers.

Without the actual figures regarding the dead and wounded, careful estimates by military experts, based on the best information, places the latter at 200,000 to 220,000. The Austrians predominate overwhelmingly among the prisoners, but among the dead and wounded it is said that a fairly large percentage are Germans. The German losses in stopping the Russian advance on Kovel and in counter attacks made in solid ranks were enormous.

The booty captured reaches incalculable figures. It is figured that 250 guns of various sizes and upward of 700 machine guns is a conservative estimate. In addition vast quantities of munitions, supplies and transports have fallen into the hands of the Russians.

"CONTINUE THE FIGHT," PARKER URGES MOOSERS

New Orleans, July 8.—In a telegram to the Third District Congressional Committee of the Progressive party in Louisiana, John M. Parker, the Progressive Vice-Presidential nominee, urges the Progressives to continue their fight and to stand by their convictions "unfettered by desertion and fearless of any opposition."

"We should demand immediate resignation of those adorning parties," he wrote, "should strictly adhere to our principles and ask support and co-operation of all parties working for national good and human welfare. We are not seeking to get into the band wagon. Our principles are either right or wrong, and as long as we firmly believe we are right, let us continue the fight for our honest convictions, unfettered by desertion and fearless of any opposition."

Soldier "Follows Orders."
Douglas, Ariz., July 8.—Adam Dockery, a private in Company B,

Arizona organized militia, returned to camp here after walking nearly 40 miles while on outpost duty. The private, a recent recruit, was placed on guard at the international line with instructions to walk to the east until he met the sentry he was to relieve.

In some manner Dockery missed the sentry. He kept walking until finally at night he met a patrol on guard 18 miles east of the camp.

"Dockery certainly obeyed instructions," an officer remarked, "but it is a good thing he met that patrol or he probably would have walked to El Paso."

CHILD AFLOAT IN RIVER NOT HURT BY ADVENTURE

La Crosse, Wis., July 8.—Michael Sweeney was working near the bank of the Mississippi in a field when he saw an infant floating down the river. He jumped in a boat, rowed out, and picked up the baby. The child's face had been held above water by its thick dresses and it was none the worse for the wetting. It turned out to be Michael's granddaughter, Mary Sweeney.

MILITARY TRAINING IN THE PUBLIC SCHOOLS

New York, July 8.—The National Educational Association went on record here to-day as assenting to military training in schools, providing that "military ends should not be permitted to pervert the educational purposes and practices of the school."

This is a change of attitude. Last year the convention came out flat-footedly against such training.

Indians Making Raids In Mexico

Mazatlan, Mexico, July 9 (by radio to San Diego, Cal.)—Yaqui Indians, taking advantage of the withdrawal of Mexican troops from Southern Sonora, are reported here to have crossed the Yaqui river and invaded lands of American ranchers and the Richardson Construction Company, devastating all property except company headquarters at Esperanza, where a Mexican garrison is maintained.

The only Americans left in the Yaqui Valley are J. E. Lowder, F. C. Hetchel, Leon Anthony, Fred S. Zeman, Gus Seighman, H. Bruss, Karl Feister and a man named Pedecourco.

There is much suffering here on account of lack of food.

The heavy collier Nanshan is expected to leave La Paz on Tuesday with fifty-four refugees from Guaymas and La Paz.

The peons at La Paz are reported suffering all the rigors of famine.

Young Woman Assaulted.

Bowling Green, Ky., July 9.—Miss Jeanie Briggs, 21 years old, a prominent young woman, was assaulted at 2:30 o'clock this morning at the home of her aunt, Mrs. Jennie Briggs, by an unidentified man. She was awakened when she was choked by the man. She leaped through the window from the second story falling on a chair, badly bruising her body. She ran to the front door and, breaking the lock, awakened the family. The stranger entered her room through the window, using a ladder. He made his escape. The police were notified and a search for the intruder began at once. Neighbors, who were aroused by the commotion and cries for help by Miss Briggs, joined in the search, which, however, proved futile.

Rats Poison Cistern.

We gave notice a week or so since of the poisoning of the Hammond family, near Cadiz, by rats having carried parls green into the cistern on their feet and then dying in the water. We have just learned that the cistern on the farm of Mr. Geo. Murray, north of Cadiz, has been probably similarly infected. At any rate, several rats have been recovered from the cistern after the family had been rather mysteriously sick for some weeks. Cisterns should be cleaned and made rat proof. Mr. Murray thinks that "sheep dip" may have gotten into the water.—[Cadiz Record.

German Casualties 3,000,000.

London, July 9 (7:20 p. m.)—German casualties from the beginning of the war to the end of June, as compared, from official German lists, are given as 3,012,637 in an official statement made public here to-day. The announcement states: "These figures include all German nationalities. They do not include naval casualties or casualties of colonial troops. They are not an estimate made by British authorities, but merely casualties announced in German lists."

British Steamer Taken.

Berlin, July 7 (by wireless to Sayville).—The British steamship Pen-dennis, 2,123 tons gross, with a cargo of timber from Gothenburg, for Hull, has been captured by a German warship off the Norwegian Coast and brought to a German port.

REMARKABLE OPERATION PREFORMED IN PARIS Part of Leg Transferred From One Man to Another Man.

Paris, June 28.—One of the most remarkable surgical operations on record is now being performed at the Grand Palais, the massive building usually used for the annual salon, but now transformed into a vast hospital. Here two soldiers lie side by side, bound together like Siamese twins, while a large portion of the leg of one of them is being slowly transferred into the leg of the other one. Noted surgeons are gathered about watching the slow development which they regard as marvelous both from the surgical standpoint as well as from the sentimental, in which one soldier is calmly giving day by day part of his body to a fellow soldier.

The two men lie on their backs on a large operating table in one of the halls of the hospital. They lie in opposite directions, the head of one near the feet of the other, like the figures on playing cards. They are among the most seriously wounded of the younger class of soldiers, one 26 and the other 23 years old. The younger, Rousselot, was wounded in the leg at the battle of Morhange in the early days of the war. He was taken a prisoner to Germany, where the surgeons say he did not receive intelligent attention. Brought back here last September, it was necessary to perform a second operation to lengthen his leg fourteen centimeters (about five and one-half inches). But after the extension was performed there was still a lack of bony matter between the two portions of the broken phemur.

The other soldier, Tillette, an artilleryman, was seriously wounded in the leg two months ago in the desperate fight over Fort Douaumont. In a field operation his leg was amputated above the knee. Later it was found that a second operation was necessary in order to shorten the leg by some centimeters. It was at this point that the surgeons concluded that the soldier who needed the shortened leg could give up this portion to the soldier who needed the longer leg. Tillette was consulted by the chief surgeon; the operation of grafting was fully explained to him, and it was made known also that he was rendering a service to a soldier comrade and to science. He did not hesitate, but gave his full assent.

Thereupon the operation began, and now after some weeks the two soldiers lie there on their backs, the right thigh of Rousselot against the left thigh of Tillette, bound together with the same surgical bandages so as to prevent the slightest shifting of the operated parts until the phenomena of transferring one leg to the other is accomplished.

OWENSBORO PROBE OF POLICE CHIEF CLOSES

Owensboro, Ky., July 8.—The two-day investigation by the Police Committee of the City Council of the charges preferred against Chief of Police Bell by Patrolman W. H. Robbins ended this afternoon. Robbins charged that the chief interfered with his duties.

Counsel for Robbins at the conclusion of the hearing, made no request that Chief Bell be removed from the force, but said that certain conditions existing in Owensboro should be remedied.

Chief Bell refuted practically every charge made by Robbins. He admitted, however, that he had instructed the police not to assist the Sheriff's department in the securing of witnesses for the grand jury, and said that he had threatened to give any officer who violated his orders a ten-days' lay off. He explained his order by saying that the Sheriff's office had refused to allow the police officers to convey prisoners to Greendale.

Mayor Hickman, who presided at the hearing, said that his eyes had been opened on vice conditions in the city of Owensboro and that he would eradicate the existing evils.

Why Endure Summer Colds?

It isn't necessary to have a stuffed head, running nose. To cough your head off as it were. All you need do is to use Dr. Bell's Pine-Tar-Honey. The soothing and healing balsam opens the clogged air passages and in a short time you get relief and start on the road to recovery. Your nose stops running, you cough less and you know you are getting better. Get a bottle, use as directed. Keep what is left as a cough and cold insurance.—Advertisement.

Soldier Honored.
A Fort Thomas special in the Owensboro Inquirer says:

Probably one of the highest honors Company K has received was in the appointment of Second Lieutenant Ben F. King as ranking lieutenant of the battalion. Lieutenant King has shown marked ability as a commanding officer and his manly appearance has caused much comment in the camp of the Third Regiment. Company K has held honor since inspection began three days ago for having the cleanest quarters.

Mr. Likens Given Appointment.
Notice has been received by Mr. G. B. Likens of his appointment as a special attorney for the U. S. Government, with headquarters in Washington City. Mr. Likens will assume the duties of the office just as soon as he can arrange his business affairs here and get away. He announces that his family will return to and reside in Hartford. Mr. Likens is well qualified for the position and we join his numerous friends here in congratulations.

Davies County Leads.
In the Federal Court, Davies county leads in the number of petitions in bankruptcy filed in the Federal Court in that city. Seven were filed from Davies county, one each from Breckenridge, Henderson and McLean counties, while two each were filed from Ohio and Muhlenberg counties. Union county had four bankrupts. The largest petition filed in the Federal Court for many years was by the firm of W. A. Guenther & Sons, involving an estate of over $100,000.

Rial—Wesley.

Mr. Joshua Wesley, of Yosemite, Casey county, Ky., and Miss Dena H. Rial, of Hartford, Route 3, daughter of Mr. B. W. Rial, furnished their friends with a surprise last Thursday by announcing their marriage which had taken place the 22d of last April, while in attendance at the Kentucky Educational Association at Louisville. They stole over to Jeffersonville and were secretly married. The groom came for his bride and the fact of their marriage was made known.

These young people have the best wishes of all for their future happiness.

Back To Old Kentucky.

The brothers and sisters and some of their families, of Mrs. A. M. Barnett, living on the Owensboro pike, are visiting her this week, the following being present: A. A. May, wife and two children, Knoxville, Tenn.; W. D. May, wife and two children, Memphis, Tenn.; W. B. May, Champaign, Ill.; Mrs. C. W. Harris and Miss Mattie May, St. Cloud, Minn.; and Miss Malissa May, Atlanta, Ga. This is the first time they have been together for 15 years.

Mrs. M. A. Massie Dean.

Mrs. M. A. Massie, who has been ill at her home on Clay street, near Fourth, died at 7:30 o'clock Sunday morning. Mrs. Massie, who was 63 years old, was a native of Hartford, Ky.

Surviving her is one son, C. D. Ralph; two brothers, George Hoover and F. M. Hoover, and one sister, Mrs. C. P. Westerfield, of Siloam Springs, Ark. Funeral services were conducted at 3 o'clock this afternoon from the residence, Rev. E. E. Bomar, officiating.—[Owensboro Inquirer.]

NEW STATE GAME LAW HAS SOME CHANGES

Hunters Should Post Themselves On Its Provisions Before Starting Out.

The squirrel hunting season is now open. Heretofore the shooting of squirrels began on June 15, but the new game and fish law makes the opening date fifteen days later, or July 1. Another provision of the new game law which many people do not know about, is that rabbits cannot be shot at any time of the year except during the quail season from November 15 to January 1. Lots of people have been in the habit of shooting young rabbits during the summer months under the old law. In fact the old law protected rabbits only from September 15 to November 15.

The great damage done to the quail crop every year by roaming dogs eating eggs in the nests and killing the young birds, is recognized and the owners of bird dogs are asked to keep them tied or muzzled during the nesting and hatching seasons. This is not required by the law but the request is made officially by the State Game and Fish Commission so as to protect the birds from this wholesale destruction that is caused every year.

The chief provisions of the new game law are as follows:

Lawful to Kill—Quail. Nov. 15 to Jan. 1. Doves, Sept. 1 to Oct. 15. Rabbits, Nov. 15 to Jan. 1. Wild ducks and wild geese, Aug. 15 to April 1. Squirrels, July 1 to Dec. 15. Unlawful to Kill—Quail, woodcock, pheasant, wild turkey or Hungarian partridge at any time. Rabbits from Dec. 31 to Nov. 15. Deer and elk protected until Nov. 15, 1921.

Shipping—Unlawful to transport or receive for transportation any game bird, but lawful to transport a hunter with his game. Trapping of birds prohibited.

License—Landowners and tenants and members of their families may hunt upon their own land only without a license. License entitles holder to hunt anywhere in the State but unlawful to hunt upon the land of another without permission.

Bag Limit—Unlawful for anyone to kill more than 12 quail or 15 doves in any one day during open season.

Federal Regulations—Unless the federal law is declared unconstitutional, wild ducks and wild geese can be killed only from Sept. 30 to Jan. 17. Shooting is prohibited on migratory game birds between sunset and sunrise.

Fish—It is unlawful to take or attempt to take fish from any of the waters of the State except private ponds or lakes, in any manner whatsoever, except with pole and line, trot line, hand line and set line.

Fur-bearing Animals—Unlawful to take or kill beaver, fox or otter, from Jan. 1 to Nov. 14. Raccoon skunk, mink and opossum may be taken by dog or gun between Oct. 1 and Feb. 15. Trapping prohibited upon the land of another without written permission, and permit must be in possession to show upon demand.

The Game and Fish Commission solicits your co-operation for more game and fish and for the enforcement of the law for their protection.

All persons owning bird dogs requested to keep them tied during May, June and July, as they destroy many nests and young birds.

Two Hundred From Kentucky.

From Thursday of this week until next Sunday evening will be held the first All-South Christian Endeavor Convention. The meeting place is Atlanta, Ga., and it is expected that more than 3,000 registered delegates from the sixteen Southern States will be in attendance, besides a large number of visitors and officials who are interested in the movement. Nearly 200 delegates will go from Kentucky, and a number of the twenty-five societies of the Louisville churches will be represented. The general theme of the convention will be "Preparedness for Service."

School teachers who have organized unions were praised by Samuel Gompers in an address before the National Education Association in New York.

Ambition is what prompts a man to do the things he can't instead of those he can.

Profit-Sharing Sale!

Begins Saturday, July 15th. - - - Closes Saturday, July 29th.

To Share in the Profits You Must Pay Cash or Produce Checks for Your Purchases.
Merchandise Charged Will be at Regular Prices.

Once more we come to you with the announcement of our Semi-Annual Profit-Sharing Sale. Considering the merchandise situation. The scarcity of almost everything that is dependable and high-class. The weekly advances that are being added to the prices that are already, we think, beyond a reasonable limit. That some very popular colors can't be had at all on account of the dye situation. That the great struggle in Europe is still raging in all its fury. That prices will continue to soar until peace is restored. Considering all these contributory elements toward a scarcity of merchandise and high prices, it looks unreasonable and unbusiness-like to slaughter the prices of good merchandise to perpetuate our profit-sharing habit.

But We've Looked on Both Sides of the Picture.

Upon looking over the records of the season's business we find our customers have been more loyal than ever. That many old customers have brought in new ones. That the merchandise we offer was bought twenty-five per cent cheaper than to-day's prices. What better way could we show our appreciation and increase our customers' interest in this store as their business home, add a few new customers to our list? However, our loss will be our customers' gain, and it will all be in the family anyway.

Seasonable necessities are at your disposal in abundance. We have made every provision possible for a GREAT BARGAIN TREAT. Every odd lot and

BEAVER DAM, KENTUCKY.

SENATOR JAMES COMPLIMENTED BY

National Jeffersonian Published in California.

NOT LONG BUT GREAT SPEECH

The Most Telling Ever Delivered
At Any Convention.

NINETEEN MINUTES CHEERING

Morton M. Milford, in a special to the Courier Journal last Saturday, says:

From far and near continue to be received here editorial words of praise for Senator Ollie M. James for the faultless manner in which, as permanent chairman, he presided over the recent Democratic National Convention at St. Louis.

Just yesterday Senator Works, of California, Republican, born and reared at Vevay, Ind., called at the office of the senior Senator from Kentucky, and after congratulating him on his success as "a sure-nuff presiding officer and orator extraordinary," handed him the following clipping from the National Jeffersonian, a weekly paper published at Los Angeles, Cal., and edited by George A. Salisbury:

"Is oratory a lost art? Ollie James, Senator from Kentucky, big physically and mentally, demonstrated that oratory is not a lost art, and that human speech can still sway multitudes and create enthusiasm. As permanent chairman of the Democratic National Convention at St. Louis he made the most telling speech ever delivered at any convention. True, Bryan's 'Crown of Thorns and Cross of Gold' speech created a sensation and caused the convention to nominate him for President years ago, but he was not asked to repeat his thrilling remarks.

"Senator James did not speak long, and when he delivered the following in regard to President Wilson he was asked to repeat it: 'President Wilson's object is the protection of American life and American interests under international law. The saving of neutral life, the freedom of the seas, and without orphaning a single American child, without widow a single American mother, without firing a single gun, without the shedding of a single drop of blood, he wrung from the most militant spirit that ever brooded over a battlefield an acknowledgment of American rights and an agreement to American demands.' When the applause subsided the Senator was asked to repeat the above. He did so, and by actual count nineteen minutes of cheering and applause followed. It was eloquence and truth combined, and no orator has ever had an ovation to equal it, not since the days of Cleo or Demosthenes. That statement alone of the eloquent Kentucky Senator should elect Wilson. Who can deny it? Who can refute it? Wilson is sane and safe—that's all."

SHOULD ELIMINATE THE ANTI-DUMPING CLAUSE

Washington, July 8.—Representative Ben Johnson to-day offered an amendment to strike out the entire "anti-dumping" clause of the revenue bill.

"I am not in favor of having Congress enact a law the effect of which would be to compel the people of the United States to pay more for products manufactured in Europe than the owner of these products asks for them," said the Fourth District Congressman in explanation of his amendment.

The "anti-dumping" clause seeks to prevent the organization by European manufacturers of pools to ship products to this country to be sold at fixed prices.

Speaker Clark closed general debate on the bill with an appeal for non-partisan action on the measure. "I congratulate the House," he said, "that this revenue bill is going to pass by a good deal more than the Democratic vote, when such Republicans as Longworth, Gardner and Hill, all rampant protectionists, see their duty to vote for it to help the country out of a hole."

Headed For U. S.

Washington, July 10.—A second warning that Villa bandits are headed for the Big Bend district of Texas to-day by Eliseo Arredondo, the Mexican Ambassador-designate. He told Acting Secretary Polk his Government had given him definite information that the bandits were moving toward Big Bend, Tex., and promised co-operation of Carranza forces.

Mr. Arredondo said he had no information regarding the number of bandits or their distance from the American line. The first warning of their approach was given last week. The information was sent to the War Department and forwarded to Maj. Gen. Funston.

SCHOOL LAWS PASSED BY LAST LEGISLATURE

Many changes were made in the school laws. The election of trustees takes place the first Saturday in October in the future instead of the first Saturday in August and the incumbents hold office until next March.

The scholastic census will be taken biennially; under the compulsory school law parents and guardians may be put in jail for failure to pay fines assessed for not sending children to school; the amount of money a county may spend for text books for indigent children is increased from $100 to $200; counties may erect joint high schools; graded districts must maintain a high school or pay tuition for their graduates, and the graded district trustees may increase the tax from 50 to 75 cents and the poll tax from $1.50 to $2.50; railroad and bridge tax due special districts are collected by the county school department instead of the sheriff and students entering the high school at 20 years of age may continue through the course.

War Is Threatened.

Washington, July 10.—Official dispatches received to-day in Latin-American diplomatic quarters say a secret agreement has been made between Peru and Venezuela with the object of taking vast tracts of land, rightful possession of which they dispute with Columbia and Ecuador. Grave fears for the peace of the nations involved were expressed.

WORLD'S FIRST UNDER-SEA LINER DODGES THE ENEMY

And Mines And Makes 4000
Mile Trip Across the Atlantic Ocean.

Baltimore, Md., July 9.—The first submarine merchantman, the German underwater liner Deutschland, anchored at Quarantine here at 11 o'clock to-night after voyaging safely across the Atlantic, passing the allied blockading squadrons and eluding enemy cruisers watching for her off the American Coast. She carries mail and a cargo of 750 tons of costly chemicals and dyestuffs and is to carry back home a similar amount of nickel and crude rubber, sorely needed by the German army.

Sixteen days out from Bremerhaven to Baltimore, the submarine reached safely in the Virginia Capes at 1:45 o'clock this morning, passing in on the surface covered by a heavy pall of darkness which settled over the entrance of the bay with the setting of a tell-tale half moon. Once inside, the visitor threw caution aside and used his siren, signalling a pilot and at the same time attracting the attention of the tug Thomas F. Timmons, which had been waiting in the lower bay for nearly two weeks to greet the Deutschland and convey her into port.

Three hours later, at 4:45 o'clock this morning, the submarine started up the bay with the German merchant flag flying under own power, piloted by Capt. Frederick D. Cooke, of the Virginia Pilots' Association, and conveyed by the Timmons. She was making more than twelve knots an hour and could have docked in Baltimore to-night, but arrangements had been made for receiving her with formal ceremonies to-morrow, and her captain was ordered to wait in the lower harbor. He and his crew of twenty-nine men remained aboard their craft.

Copper and crude rubber will be taken to Bremen on return trip.

Dixie Highway Figures.

The Dixie highway has a total mileage of 4,206 and traverses eight States and 163 counties. It will serve a territory with a population of approximately forty million. There are over 800,000 automobile owners in this territory, from which the Dixie highway can reasonably expect to attract tourists.

Burglars Obtain $33.

Smiths Grove, Ky., July 8.—Last night burglars entered the flour mill here by forcing out a window light and broke open the safe and stole $33 in silver. There is no clew.

There are 469,711 Kentuckians available for war duty between the ages of 18 and 46, and 21,000,000 in the whole country.

BE ENERGETIC NOT LAQUID

Medical Authority Tells What
This Condition Really Means.

"When you are languid and listless, or lack ambition and feel so melancholy that life seems scarcely worth the living, it is absolutely necessary that you take treatment to correct these sub-normal conditions, because you are suffering from derangements of a vital organ," declares one of the greatest medical authorities.

That "tired feeling" means a good deal more than is generally realized. It is not laziness, it is a physical ailment that needs correction quickly before it becomes even more serious by taking a firm hold on you.

Throw off that nervous depression. It is your duty.

Tanlac, the tonic, appetizer and invigorant, that builds new tissues, vitalizes the blood and acts so favorably on ailments of the stomach, liver and kidneys and catarrhal affections of the mucous membranes, is designed especially to correct these conditions. The results of the Tanlac treatment are amazing. It tends to put you back in body and mind like those old-fashioned, but most sensible folks, the pioneers, and to make you sturdy and of real manhood and womanhood.

Men and women, from the highest to the lowest walks of life, everywhere are testifying to the relief Tanlac has brought them. No other remedy has ever won such great endorsements that can only come from superlative merits.

Tanlac can now be had in Hartford at the Ohio County Drug Co., where it is being fully explained to all questioners.

Tanlac may be obtained in the following nearby towns: Beaver Dam, Z. Wilbur Mitchell; Centertown, L. C. Morton & Son; McHenry, Williams Coal Co.; Ceralvo, C. R. Fulkerson; Cromwell, Wallace & Porter; Banock, Cook & Co.; Rockport, Harrell Bros.; Nelson, Nelson Creek Coal Co.; Livermore, J. F. Smith; Island, A. R. Pollock; Dundee, C. C. King; Fordsville, J. D. HOPEWELL.

July 10.—Mrs. Della Miller took some cattle to Evansville last week, accompanied by Mr. Adia Robertson. From there they will go to White county, Ill., to visit her daughter, Mrs. Albin Shull, and their other Kentucky friends.

Miss Irene Bennett, of Central City, is visiting Miss Marguerite Taylor.

Dr. Westerfield, of Rochester, died last Friday. He used to practice in the writer's family. He was very old—up in the eighties.

The teachers from here attended the institute last week and Miss era Miller went on to begin her school.

Miss Jessie Taylor and Mr. Paul T. King and wife, of East St. Louis, Ill., are visiting their parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Taylor.

Mrs. Edgar Taylor, of Roland, W. Va., is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. P. S. Coleman.

Mrs. Oma Wydox suffered a relapse Saturday night and is very ill.

BEAVER DAM.

July 10.—Wheat threshing has begun in this vicinity. While the quality is good the acreage yield is short. Mr. Elijah Render, who made 700 bushels last year only made 70 bushels this year. Some are hauling to the Beaver Dam Milling Co. They are paying $1.05 per bushel for all good wheat.

They have gone to work in earnest on the Morgantown road. If the weather continues favorable they will soon be ready for the rock, as far out as Union schoolhouse.

It is thought by some people that the end of the world is near at hand. Holy Writ tells us that there will be wars and rumors of wars and that they will be marrying and giving in marriage when the end cometh. All know of the great war of Europe and the rumors of war with Mexico and that the children of Beaver Dam are marrying. The last couple to elope was Mr. Porter Barnes and Miss Pansy Lyles, daughter of Mr. Cicero Lyles, who went to Rockport, Ind., last week where they were made man and wife.

Mr. Day Taylor, of Princeton, Ky., and Miss Carolyn Shaver, of Oklahoma City, Okla., are visiting Mr. Luther Render and family.

Mr. Warder Gardner, who has been clerk in the Barnes department store, has resigned his position and will leave Monday for Pembroke, Ky., where he with a partner will enter the mercantile business. Miss Mabel Murray has returned home from a visit to her relatives in Pleasant Ridge, Ky.

Messrs. Otto Dexter and Mac Porter received a telegram from Congressman Ben Johnson that the Beaver Dam post-office would be given to them jointly. They will receive their commission and the office change hands in the near future.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Woodward, Miss Orrel Fielden, Hartford; Misses Bernice and Artie May, Owensboro, were the guests of Rev. and Mrs. R. L. Creal Sunday.

Mrs. Mollie Pirtle, wife of Mr. T. C. Pirtle, died Sunday evening after a long illness of tuberculosis. She was up in fifty and is survived by her husband and one brother, Mr. Warren Taylor. She was with her husband at the home of Mr. Cecil Cooper, living a mile out the Rochester road from town. After funeral services her remains will be interred in the Liberty burying grounds this afternoon.

CENTERTOWN.

July 10.—Mr. Chester Rowe and family, of Latonia, Ky., are visiting his mother, Mrs. Mary Rowe, and other relatives for a few days. Mr. Rowe has been engaged in the Railway Mail Service for the past three years.

Miss Ellen Lawrence, of Greenville, Ky., is visiting her uncle, Mr. C. T. S. Overton, for a few days. Miss Lawrence is one of Kentucky's live teachers.

Mr. and Mrs. Foster McKenney are visiting their daughter, Mrs. W. E. Brown, of Logansport, Ky. Mrs. Brown was recently operated on for appendicitis in Louisville, and was able to return to her home about a week ago. R. F. McKenney and wife, B. J. McKenney and family, of Eldorado, Ill., and Dr. E. B. McKenney and family, of Louisville, are also spending several days with the folks at Logansport.

Mrs. O. K. Rowe and children, of Evansville, Ind., are visiting their mother, Mrs. O. B. Bossett, this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Davis spent a day or two last week with their parents at South Carrollton, Ky.

The Baptists and Methodists are arranging for a union temperance service next Sunday evening at the Baptist church. Everybody cordially invited to attend.

Master Nell Plummer, of Evansville, has been visiting his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Plummer, for the past two weeks.

Quite a number of teachers attended the institute at Hartford last week, and a number of common school graduates from this vicinity received diplomas.

Revenue Bill Passes House.

Washington, July 10.—The administration's omnibus Revenue Bill, creating a tariff on dyestuffs, repealing present stamp taxes and providing for new taxes on incomes, inheritances and war munitions profits, passed the House late to-day by a vote of 240 to 140.

During the closing hours of debate several amendments providing for elimination of the bankers' tax and modifying the tariff commission section, were adopted over the opposition of Democratic leaders. On the final roll-call the Democrats voted solidly for the bill and were joined by thirty-four Republicans, five Progressives-Republicans, one independent and one Socialist.

Franco Needs Coal.

Paris, July 8.—The government is arranging to bring ten thousand workmen from Italy to increase the production of the coal mines of the region of Lyons. Seven million tons a year is the estimate of the increased output that may thus be assured.

NOTICE.

The Fiscal Court of Ohio county will receive bids for furnishing the reinforcing steel and cement and pipes to be used on the Hartford and Morgantown State Aid Road No. 92 B. 1, in Ohio county at the court house in Hartford, Ky., until 10 a. m., July 21, 1916. Saved Girl's Life

"I want to tell you what wonderful benefit I have received from the use of Thedford's Black-Draught," writes Mrs. Sylvia Woods, of Clifton Mills, Ky.

"It certainly has no equal for la grippe, bad colds, liver and stomach troubles. I firmly believe Black-Draught saved my little girl's life. When she had the measles, they went in on her, but one good dose of Thedford's Black-Draught made them break out, and she has had no more trouble. I shall never be without

AMERICA'S FIRST POLITICAL PARTY

Which Followed Obnoxious Stamp Act.

NAME WAS "SONS OF LIBERTY"

It Flourished For Awhile and Was Finally Absorbed In to the Revolution.

"LIBERTY POLES" EVERYWHERE

The Sons of Liberty was the first real national party in this country. Its organization was the outcome of the obnoxious Stamp Act which England placed upon the colonists in 1764. When this act was proposed, loose secret organizations, chiefly of workmen, were formed in various colonies for united resistance. Colonel Isaac Barre, in a speech in Parliament in 1765, used the phrase "Sons of Liberty," which was at once adopted by these societies.

The Sons of Liberty sprung up almost immediately in all sections of the colonies, although no central organization existed, but the Sons of Liberty in the New York colony developed the most strength. It was in that colony that the first organization was effected. Songs helped materially in the recruiting of the ranks, one of the most popular having been written by John Dickinson, which started:

"Come join hand in hand, Americans all,
And rouse your bold heart at Liberty's call."

Branches of the Sons of Liberty were eventually in operation in all the colonies from New Hampshire to South Carolina and while they performed a most important work in the early stages of the Revolution, their members, as a general thing, were composed of men of a lower social class than the final leaders in the conflict. Barring Samuel Chase, of Maryland, scarcely one of them made a place for himself.

Samuel Adams seems to have been in close touch with the organization in Boston and joined in the invitation of John Adams to attend their meetings. The latter drew up several papers for them and in his diary he left a description of a visit to their place of meeting in Hanover Square.

The Sons of Liberty in different communities, erected "liberty poles." At Providence, R. I., they resolved: "We do, therefore, in the name and behalf of all true Sons of Liberty in America, Great Britain, Corsica, or wheresoever they are dispersed throughout the world, dedicate and solemnly devote this tree to be a Tree of Liberty."

Their pole in the square at New York was cut down four times by the King's troops, but they purchased a plot of ground and then triumphantly erected a fifth. When a Maryland patriot's house was burned, the Sons of Liberty rebuilt it.

As a kindred association, the Daughters of Liberty came into existence. They usually assembled to knit or sew during the afternoon and to serve tea to the Sons of Liberty who came in the evening. They favorably blended their voices in liberty songs, one of the most popular being one credited to Thomas Paine, which began:

"In a chariot of light from the regions of day,
The Goddess of Liberty came;
Ten thousand Celestials directed the way,
And hither conducted the dame,
A fair budding branch from the gardens above,
Where millions with millions agree,
She brought in her hand as a pledge of her love,
And the plant she named Liberty Tree."

The leaders of the Sons of Liberty were generally men of local prominence, but naturally such an organization could not keep out of its ranks some indiscreet persons, and who were nothing more or less than disorderly and lawless; who joined to carry out their own vicious designs. The influential classes refrained from active participation, but they seem to have done little to check the disorders and apparently were willing to let mob rule frustrate the purpose of Parliament.

When Andrew Oliver, of Massachusetts, undertook to distribute the stamps in Boston, on August 14, 1765, he was hanged in effigy on the "liberty tree," a large elm that served as a rallying place for the Sons of Liberty of Boston. The outcome was that Oliver publicly signed a pledge not to act as stamp distributor, but this did not spare him, for on the day of the opening of Parliament, in December, he was compelled to march to the liberty tree and take an oath that he would not attempt to collect the stamp duties.

Similar instances occurred in all the colonies. In Connecticut Israel Putnam called on Governor Fitch to let him know the feeling of the people, and to warn him that if he refused admittance to the Sons of Liberty, they would destroy the stamps and pull his house down in less than five minutes.

Ingersoll, one of the stamp collectors, attempted to ignore the warning, but he was met by a crowd at Wethersfield, was compelled to sign the proffered resignation, and being escorted to Hartford, he read his resignation before the Assembly. The distributors in New Jersey, Maryland and Virginia resigned, and at Philadelphia, John Hughes, a friend of Franklin, gave in his resignation at the demand of a mob.

When the Revolution came the Sons of Liberty were absorbed into the greater cause and lost their identity, but their experience during the ten years that preceded its start fitted them well for the determination they displayed at the outbreak.

MEXICO'S LAND OWNERS CONTROL VAST ESTATES

Typical Farm In That Country
Is One Of About a Million Acres.

In the United States the farmer is an humble person; in Mexico he is a king of millionaires. You look out across a level plain and you see a magnificent house of stone, cement and great timbers, covering, sometimes, as much as half an acre. Surrounding it are other houses, dozens of them, but all small, constructed of adobe, brush or even of cane stalks. You are not looking at a town, but at a ranch settlement. In the great, house—which costs many times more than all the little houses put together—live the hacendado and his family. In the little houses live the peons.

The typical farm in Mexico is not of 160 acres, but of a million. In the State of Morelos 28 hacendados own all the agricultural lands; 12 own nine-tenths of it. The Territory of Quintana Roo, double the size of Massachusetts, is divided among eight companies. The greater portion of the State of Yucatan is held by 30 men—kings of sisal hemp. A major portion of the agricultural and grazing lands of Chihuahua are owned by one family. Lower California, equal in size to Alabama, is nearly all held by five great corporations.

The 1,000,000-acre farms lie mostly fallow. While naturally a rich, agricultural country, Mexico does not produce even enough corn and beans to feed her own peon population. Modern machinery is needed, but modern machinery will never be used extensively so long as the peon is so cheap that primitive methods are cheaper than machine methods.—[World Outlook.

A MONSTER FLAG POLE FROM OREGON FIR TREE

A 165-foot flagpole, destined for Joseph T. Lilly's estate at Northport, L. I., has just arrived at Hoboken. It came from near Tacoma, Wash., on four large flat cars. The freight charge was $1,550. If a sufficiently large lighter can be found, it will transport the pole to Northport; otherwise the pole will be towed.

The pole, which is 28 inches through at the base, is from an Oregon fir tree, which stood 300 feet high. It is a beautifully grained piece of wood. On one side there is not a single knot. It will be set in a concrete base 15 feet underground, and will be surmounted by a weather vane 30 feet across. The flag will be 30 by 50 feet. It will be the tallest flagpole along the Atlantic Coast. Mr. Lilly's estate is 200 feet above sea level and the flag will be visible for most of the length of Long Island.—[New York World.

A HUMORIST SEES ITGeorge Fitch Paints Bad Side of The Dark and Bloody Ground.

Kentucky is one of the warmest American States, not only climatically, but politically. It is situated just south of the healthy repatriate belt and is separated from Ohio, Indiana and Illinois by the Ohio river, which is often swum by minority delegates in Kentucky caucuses.

Kentucky is shaped like a suffragette shoe, and is of medium size, about a No. 9 on an E last. It was settled by Daniel Boone with the aid of a long rifle in 1769, and the Daniel Boone method of settlement is still plausibly maintained in most parts of the State in all important questions.

Kentucky is a wonderfully fertile region and huge crops are raised whenever the inhabitants have time. The State is full of fast horses, beautiful women, fine whiskey and red hot men. It hasn't much of a population, considering its size, but it could have had twice as much if the early Kentuckian had been water-jacketed and kept below a shooting temperature. Men kill each other over politics in Tennessee and over cards in Texas and as a recreation in Chicago, but in Kentucky crops, politics and family quarrels are all fatal. The result is that in some districts the Kentuckian who dies in bed with his boots off is sat upon by the coroner, who tries to find the reason.

Kentucky raises more tobacco than any other State, when the night rider doesn't ride. The night rider is a sort of a human boll weevil which gets into the crops and ruins them with a hoe. It travels in crowds and is brave and fearless whenever its opponent is unarmed. The feud is another Kentucky disease which has put a sad crimp into the population. The feud flourishes in the mountains of eastern Kentucky, where the railroad and the public library do not intrude, and is a sort of a four generation family quarrel conducted with shot guns. When one feudist meets another feudist in a narrow alley and the second feudist refuses to sidetrack, the first feudist shoots him. Then the son of the second part shoots the feudist of the first part, and the nephew of the feudist of the first part shoots the son and second cousin of the feudist of the second part and the brother-in-law and uncle by marriage of the feudist of the second part catch the nephew and grandson and sister and cousin by marriage of the feudist of the first part at church and fill them so full of lead that they have to be taken home on a truck. Taking the census of Breathitt county by piece-work is a poorhouse job.—[By George Fitch.]

The Maccabees Of Tent No. 99.
The Bee Hive, the official paper of the Maccabees, in its current issue contains the following:

State Physician, Dr. E. B. Pendleton, of Hartford, writes us that we may look out for something that will put the Maccabees to thinking, as Tent No. 99 is going to arouse the natives and in a little while that great tent at Hartford is coming to the forefront as it has never done before, and, in strength, it stands almost "next to head" now. You needn't be surprised at any good thing happening in this tent, where at one time the revival waxed so warm the Supreme Commander was induced to make a special visit to the Blue Grass State in order to witness the splendid work of this elegant tent and shake the hands of its promoters, which include the entire body—Col. MOST CRITICAL YEARS
OF MAN'S WHOLE LIFEAccording To Insurance Expert,
They Lie Between Ages
Of 35 and 45.

How old are you?
That is a Chinaman's favorite question, but one that is considered quite impertinent in this country. But when you go into an insurance office to take out a policy it is the first thing asked of you. Consequently insurance statistics are the most comprehensive and interesting ones students of longevity can examine.

Everybody is more or less interested in facts about the average length of life and the things that establish that average. Therefore the statement by the officers of a certain big insurance company that the critical period of man's life lies between the ages of 35 and 45 is calculated to make us stop and ask the question above.

By long and careful watching and calculating this company has ascertained that out of every 100 men who were listed as healthy at 25 years of age, 11 die between the ages of 35 and 45, as opposed to five deaths between the ages of 25 and 35, and only four deaths between 45 and 55.

Hence they claim that the decade that lies between 35 and 45 is the most critical period of a man's existence. If these statistics are corroborated by those of physicians, then it behooves the man in this period to have a care of himself and take no chance on the supposition that his constitution is "hardened" with time.

The same insurance company, watching narrowly the business of men as they gather their policies, says that out of every 100 men who start in active business at 25, five will be rich and four will attain to wealth. The company claims that any reliable court records will show that only three out of every 100 such business men leave estates of as much as $10,000.

Something like 80 out of 100 leave no interest-bearing estates whatever. There is always the chance of some error in calculations, but these chances are minimized by the companies whose interests are at stake, and so it is fair to assume that the figures above are as nearly correct as they can be made. It is there-

FAILURE IN THE FINAL TESTS

Is Holding Companies Back—
New Recruiting Will Probably Be Slow.

100 MEN IN 2 COMPANIES FAIL

Fort Thomas, Ky., July 8.—All talk of an early departure for the border for the Kentucky troops was silenced when the latest results from the Federal examinations showed even deeper inroads into the strength of the companies than had already been made.

The revised list of the rejections of Company E., First Regiment, of Louisville, included more than sixty men; that for Company D, more than fifty men, and the complete list for the field hospital corps showed a loss of seventeen.

The loss of more than 100 men in two Louisville companies, following close upon the heels of the disaster of Company A, early in the week, and with a prospect for even larger rejections in some of the companies yet to follow, cast a deep gloom over the entire camp.

The rejected men will begin leaving for their homes in Louisville tomorrow.

The first estimate of the rejections in Companies H and B, of Louisville, which were examined today gave the former as 22 and the latter as 33.

This included only those who were rejected outright during the examination, a considerable number of men in both units being held for further consideration. Experience has shown that the original estimated rejections is invariably swelled to a measurable degree by the "further consideration" so that the result of the past two or three days work may be safely estimated at more than 200 rejections.

Those who hoped a week ago that the various contingents would be able to fill the gaps which the examinations would make in their units, are now of a different mind. The matter of finding fifty and sixty recruits to the company, it was admitted, presents its difficulties. The best opinion in camp was to the effect that the Kentucky boys would not be in shape to start for the border under a month. Coupled with this, the possibility was pointed out that in that time the dispute between the two governments stands a fair chance of being on the way to settlement and the presence of more guardsmen on the border will not be needed.

It was pointed out also, that inoculations and vaccinations would prove a cause of considerable delay in getting the troops ready for movement. The Government is averse to moving them until they have received their inoculation for typhoid, and this can not be administered until twenty days after their first.

Supply men, however, are taking no chances on being caught unprepared. To-day they were busy getting the equipment ready for the men who have passed through the major part of the mustering examination and vaccination processes.

MILLIONS FOR CHILDREN— NOT A CENT FOR CHARITY

Bellows Falls, Vt., July 8.—Mrs. Hetty Green, in her will, filed here, leaves all but about $5,200,000 of her $100,000,000 to $150,000,000 estate to her son, Col. E. H. R. Green, and her daughter, Mrs. Matthew Astor Wilks, in a joint ten-year trust fund.

There is no intimation or stipulation in the will as to the disposition of the trust fund after the time limit expires.

Of the remainder of the estate approximately $5,074,000 is bequeathed to the daughter, in a separate ten-year trust fund to be managed by her brother.

To her son-in-law, Mr. Wilks, Mrs. Green bequeathed $5,000 as "an appreciation of his having made an ante-nuptial relinquishment of any claim on his wife's property."

Charity gets nothing. The individual outside bequests are as follows:

Mrs. Herbert P. Bancroft, of New York, formerly of Bellows Falls, a personal friend, $5,000.

Amory A. Lawrence, a Boston millionaire, formerly trustee of the estate of Sylvia Ann Howland, aunt of Mrs. Green, $10,000.

Ruth Lawrence, No. 69 Washington Place, New York City, $5,000.

The jewelry, household furniture, portraits, paintings and other personal effects of Mrs. Green are divided equally between the son, Col. E. H. R. Green, and the daughter as they may agree.

The "richest woman in the world" directed that her doctors' bills and funeral expenses be paid promptly.

QUICKSAND DRAWS TWO TO A HORRIBLE DEATH

Savannah, Ga., July 8.—R. H. Barrow and his daughter Jennie Sue, 13 years old, were caught in quicksand and drowned in Penroses Pond, near Spartanburg, S. C., while Mrs. Barrow and her three little sons stood near the edge of the water, unable to render any assistance.

The accident took place in a small body of water, near which the members of the Barrow family were spending the afternoon.

The girl went into the pond to wade, and was caught in the quicksand, which gripped her feet and slowly drew her down. The father went to the assistance of the girl, and as he approached her he, too, became a victim of the sands. The child quickly disappeared, but in her struggles she seized her father about the neck, pulling him under the water with her.

The man's head, however, reappeared above the water, and he struggled energetically for release, but, imbedded in the sands above his knees, he was unable to extricate himself, and was drowned standing up, with the top of his head showing above the surface of the pond.

LEGS BITTEN OFF BY A SHARK WHILE SWIMMING

Spring Lake, N. J., July 8.—Attacked by a shark while swimming in the surf here this afternoon, Charles Bruder, 28 years old, a bellhop in a local hotel, lost his legs when they were bitten off. He died within 10 minutes after life guards brought him ashore. The attack happened during the afternoon bathing hour, when hundreds were in the water.

Because of the low tide, Bruder, who was a strong swimmer, was about 100 feet beyond the outer life line. Guards White and Anderson were watching him because of the distance that he was from the beach, when he suddenly yelled for help. The guards launched their boat, and just as they reached Bruder's side, he said: "A shark bit me," and became unconscious.

His left leg had been cut off clean above the knee, and the right leg just below the knee. The shark had bitten Bruder in one side before taking his legs off, as there were teeth marks below the left arm.

TO HEAL CHIGGER BITES —HOUSEHOLD REMEDIES

If a bath in hot water or in water containing salt or strong soap is taken within a few hours after exposure in shrubbery and weeds infested with chiggers, or "red bugs," no ill effects will be experienced. After a long exposure, however, a bath has practically no effect, and direct remedies are necessary.

After irritation has set in and small red spots appear, the application of a moderately strong solution of ammonia to the affected parts is recommended by United States Department of Agriculture's entomologists. A supersaturated solution of bicarbonate of soda or common cooking soda or saleratus will afford relief. Liberal applications should be made until the irritation subsides. If the suffering is severe a diluted tincture of iodine or collodion should be lightly applied.—[Kansas City Times.]

Should Sloan's Lintment Go Along?

Of course it should! For after a strenuous day when your muscles have been exercised to the limit an application of Sloan's Lintment will take the soreness and stiffness away and get you in fine shape for the morning. You should also use it for a sudden attack of toothache, stiff neck, backache, stings, bites and the many accidents that are incidental to a vacation. "We would as soon leave our baggage as go on a vacation or camp out without Sloan's Lintment." Writes one vacationist: "We use it for everything—from cramps to toothache." Put a bottle in your bag, be prepared and have no regrets.—Advertisement.

The county will stand half of the expense and the State will pay the remainder, according to County Judge Henry T. Day.

REVENUE GAINS IN STATE $3,592,809

The Government Collections In Kentucky

SHOW A VERY LARGE INCREASE

For 1916—Tax Upon Incomes
Here Netted U. S. More
Than $100,000.

CORPORATIONS PAID $277,159

Washington, July 8.—Kentucky contributed generously to the support of the Federal Government during the last fiscal year, according to the preliminary statement of the receipts from ordinary internal revenue and from corporations and individuals under the income tax law, made public by the Secretary of the Treasury. Her aggregate collections were $37,246,657.73. This is an increase of more than $3,500,000 over the collections of the fiscal year of 1915.

The Fifth—the Louisville district—maintains the position of second in the collection of ordinary revenues for the Government, having a total of $20,284,009.04. The district gained more than $2,000,000 in its aggregate collections. Corporations in the district contributed $277,159.06 under the income tax law, while individuals paid out of their incomes $103,183.91.

The aggregate collections of the several districts in the State during the fiscal year just closed, compared with those of the previous fiscal year, follow:

Second district, Josh T. Griffith collector, 1915, $3,888,111.83; 1916, $4,328,272.29.

Fifth district, Thomas S. Mayes collector, 1915, $18,375,483.34; 1916, $20,664,352.01.

Sixth district, Charlton B. Thompson collector, 1915, $4,452,990.77; 1916, $5,052,615.10.

Seventh district, Ben Marshall collector, 1915, $4,507,987.42; 1916, $4,686,072.59.

Eighth district, John W. Hughes collector, 1915, $2,429,272.84; 1916, $2,515,343.74.

Total, 1915, $33,653,848.21; 1916, $37,246,657.73.

These figures include receipts from ordinary revenues and receipts from corporations and individuals under the income tax law. In announcing these figures Secretary McAdoo called attention to the fact that they are subject to revision upon analysis of complete returns. Kentucky keeps her position as fourth in the list of States. New York leads, followed by Pennsylvania and Illinois.

Receipts from the three sources in the Kentucky districts follow:

Second district ordinary revenues, $4,285,341.89; corporation income, $3,419,852, and individual income, $8,734.57.

Fifth district, ordinary revenues, $20,284,009.04; corporation, $277,159.06, and individual, $103,183.91.

Sixth district, ordinary, $5,011,377.12; corporation, $25,252.37; individual, $12,985.61.

Seventh district, ordinary, $4,606,363.40; corporation, $45,717.81; individual, $33,991.88.

Eighth district, ordinary, $2,482,607.99; corporation, $26,520.97; individual, $6,216.78.

The term ordinary revenue includes receipts from distilled spirits, fermented liquors, cigars, cigarettes, snuff, chewing and smoking tobacco, oleomargarine, adulterated butter and renovated butter.

Gen. Ramos Killed.

Chihuahua, July 6.—Gen. Ignacio Ramos was killed during a fierce and bloody battle which raged all yesterday between the Government troops and Villa followers at Corralitos, fifteen miles from Jimlaez. Rather than retire without carrying out his orders not to return unless he was able to report success, Gen. Ramos, when he found himself surrounded by a superior force, fought until killed. The survivors of the command retreated at night fall. Orders have gone to strong forces to take the trail of the forces which attacked him.

Mr. P. A. Howard, the owner, Whitesville, Ky., says:

"I bought this wagon 24 years ago and it's been in constant use ever since hauling heavy loads of lumber, logs, coal and farm products over roughest roads. Still in good condition. Never in shop for repairs. Never had to reset a tire nor replace any part. Only $2.00 ever spent on repairs. Seems good for many more years. Wood parts seem good as new. Now hauls 40 bushels of coal every day. You couldn't induce me to use any other make."

Never had any special care. Always exposed to elements. Tires never slipped. Still doing heavy duty. No wagon compares with it for light draft and wear."

Mr. T. B. Newsom, Triune, Tenn., says: "Still hauling logs over 14 miles of roughest roads with mine after 16 years of use. Still looks as if it had been used only about 3 years."

Suppose this was Your Business!

If the Government had asked you to invest your money in a plant to supply Government needs; and after the plant was built, and had become useful for no other purpose, the Government built a plant of its own, making your plant useless and your investment valueless—would that seem fair?

That is precisely what Congress is planning for the Government to do with reference to our investment of $7,000,000 in an armor plant.

Reporting to Congress, Hon. H. A. Herbert, then Secretary of the Navy, said December 31, 1896:

"The two armor contractors, the Bethlehem Iron Company and the Carnegie Steel Company, both entered upon the business at the request of the Navy Department."

Is it wise—is it fair—for the Government to destroy a private industry brought into existence to serve the Government, unless for reasons of compelling force? To show that no such reasons exist, we make this offer to the United States Government:

The Bethlehem Steel Company will manufacture armor plate for the Government of the United States at actual cost of operation plus such charges for overhead expenses, interest, and depreciation as the Federal Trade Commission may fix. We will do this for such period as the Government may designate.

Isn't that fair? The question is now before the United States Senate.

Study Music in a University City

Study music in the atmosphere of culture and in ideal surroundings. Lexington, Ky., is the seat of culture, the university city—the city of ideal environs that are an incentive to the highest idealism. So situated, the Lexington College of Music with its faculty of distinguished instructors in voice, piano, violin and other string instruments, brass instruments, theory, harmony, composition, teacher's training, public school music, dramatic art and painting, affords rare advantages to the music student. Degrees conferred. Positions guaranteed. Terms and board reasonable. Summer term begins June 12. Fall term September 11. Write for catalogue. Lexington College of Music, 641 W. Second St., LEXINGTON, KY.

COOPER BRO'S.

BIG SEMI-ANNUAL SALE

Begins July 8th and Closes July 22, 1916.

We are going to offer you seasonable merchandise at prices that positively can not be duplicated in today's markets. The merchandise of the whole world is now in the greatest confusion and uncertainty, with merchandise advancing as if by magic, and there is no chance for cheaper prices for months and months to come. In fact, the longer the European war continues the higher prices will go.

Our Stock of Merchandise is worth from 10 to 20 per cent. more today than it cost. Now, in the face of this, we are going to give you a reduced price. You have a chance to save from 20 to 30 per cent. on the dollar. Don't fail to attend this sale. We have a complete stock for you to select from. We will give you a specimen of prices on men's and women's apparel that clearly emphasizes this store's policy of a complete clearance of stock at the end of each season while quality and style and standard are not affected. But the prices have been slashed without consideration to the actual worth of the merchandise. The prime thought is to move the goods. Let us urge you to attend this sale, as there will be items that you can save on now, which if not bought at a reduced price, will cost a great deal more. Prices on all goods have been cut to the quick. All merchandise that is not listed will go at 10 per cent. off. Nothing reserved except Shoes, Overalls, Overall Jackets and Groceries. This sale is for cash or produce. No goods will be charged at these special prices, which follow:
